land Maddox, and W. J. Webb.

A communication was received from Henry R. Miles, general superintendent of the telegraph and telephone service, in which he notified the board that the commissioners contemplated the connection of such of the school buildings with the district telephone service as might seem advisable in heu of the service now afforded by the National Capital Telephone company. He therefore requested the board to designate twenty schools for the proposed service, and ten additional ones if it should be found that the finances admitted it. The communication was properly referred.

A communication was received from John B. Larner, attorney for N. D. Larner, calling attention to the damage that had been done to the Larner school building, and appending an itemized statement of the damage done, $123.75 in amount.

The communication was referred to committee on buildings and repairs.

Mr. Brooks submitted a resolution directing that the "reports of the local committees, submitted by order of the board, recommending what repairs shall be done in the respective divisions during the next vacation, be, and the same are hereby, referred to the committee on buildings and repairs. And it shall be the duty of said committee to report to the district commissioners such repairs as should be promptly made;" to also recom-

And it shall be the duty of said committee to report to the district commissioners such repairs as should be promptly made;" to also recommend that one-fourth of the whole appropriation for repairs as a contingent repair fund, to be apportioned equally between the several school divisions, and each division's share not to be used out of its district, except on recommendation of the committee on building and approved by the beard.

The committee on buildings and repairs is empowered to act for the board of trustees, and it or any member thereof who shall be designated shall have authority to make, in the name of the board, requisitions for the necessary supplies, labor, &c.; all bills accruing therefor to be approved by the committee of building and repairs or any member thereof.

The committee is directed to report to the board of trustees its action under the authority so conferred in October next, at which time the special authority hereby granted shall cease.

Gen. Birney made a minority report protesting against admitting pupils of the second year high school class to the normal school, because it would be injurious to such pupils; because it would be a violation of a former rule of the board; because it would injure the high school by demoralizing the lower classes; because it would lower the standard of qualification for admission to the normal school; because it would injure the normal school; because it would injure the normal school class, and because the bad ef-fects of the step would be felt for many years. substitute for Mr. Lovejoy's, that the number of pupils in the normal school shall be limited to twenty-five famale graduates of the Wash-ington high school, on O street; provided that if the vacancies be more than the number of

THE LATE SURGEON GENERAL. Official Order Announcing His Death to the Medical Department of the Army.

Surgeon General Crane has just issued an ficial order announcing to the officers of the medical department of the army the death of the late Surgeon General Barnes (retired), in which a full history of the life of that officer which a full history of the life of that officer is given, including an enumeration of the important positions filled by him during a coptinuous military service of over forty-three years. The many noble qualities of the late officer are referred to, and a warm tribute is paid to his valuable services in bringing the medical branch of the army to its present high standard. His coolness, his skill, his judgment were remarkable, eminently fitting him for a high position on the medical staff, where such qualities are indispensable and where such qualities are indispensable and their exercise oftentimes required to be prompt ever instantaneous. As a surgeon and physician he was quick of perception, sound of judgment, and fertile in expedients and decision. His mind was at once comprehensive and minute, and he brought to bear upon what are called trioral things the same close attention and broad grant of thought that is what are called trioral things the same close attention and bread grasp of thought that in matters of greater moment won for him so high a reputation. He never lacked those qualities so important as a physician, unversing patience, and kindly sympathy. And his professional skill was romarkable. He was a successful heater. As a man Gen. Barnes was just, kind hearted, considerate, and constant. He commanded unvarying respect from all who knew him, and "to know him intimately was to love him." He was thoroughly sincere, hating shams and hypocrisy with a cordial batred that was to be measured only by his admiration and affection for honesty and truth. As an efficer he was thorough, conscientious, and punche was thorough, conscientious, and punc-tilious. Take him all in all a great man has fallen in Israel when he died. His attention to President Garfield undoubtedly was the cause, from protracted care, anxiety, and con-finement, which laid the foundation for the disease that carried him off.

There is more beauty in a pair of vigorous, regular, uniform, and well-kept eyebrows, long, drooping, curved, and bewilding eyelashes, than people are aware of. A very unattractive eve assumes new beauty and greater influence when it looks from beneath long, well-developed, fascinating fringes. In oriental countries those are considered to be the most distinguishing features of personal beauty, and a lady's lashes are unattractive if not long and drooping, our society ladies acknowledge these to be a rare adjunct of beauty, by resorting to the use of pencil and brush to supply artificially this facial adornment which nature has falled to supply to them in sufficient quantitive.
